

Candlelit Procession

The Candlelit Procession is an annual event where students from across the University, members of staff and members of the public join together to carry candles through the dark from Prebends Bridge up to the Cathedral.

This is an amazingly atmospheric event, and one of the few occasions where you can see around the Cathedral at night. Hundreds attend each year but we're hoping to make 2010 the largest turnout ever. Don't miss your opportunity to be involved!

The procession is followed by a brief introduction to the Cathedral, an opportunity to look around this amazing building, and a short optional service. Refreshments will be available, and everyone is more than welcome to come along – whether of any faith or none.

Events

DUECC has several events planned for the coming term and the coming year.

The first of these will be the annual Candlelit Procession to Durham Cathedral (see inside), followed by an evening covering the subject 'What is Ecumenism?'

DUECC

DUECC celebrates the diversity of the different Durham Christian groups, whilst offering a dialogue to explore both what we share and unite in and what makes us unique and different. It was founded around a decade ago, and today hosts a calendar of events aimed at bringing Christians together and witnessing to the love of Jesus Christ, who prayed that we may be one in him.

As such, DUECC exists to enable the different student Christian societies to work together for better witness to the Gospel in Durham and the University, in partnership with the University Chaplaincies, local churches and the Cathedral, by encouraging unity between Christians of different denominations and traditions around our shared belief in Jesus Christ's redemptive love for creation. We help the different societies to co-operate in events, and to mutually support their activities. We co-operate with the Cathedral and University Chaplaincies to provide lectures in an ecumenical setting that widen understanding of the Christian faith. We also organise a range of events throughout the year.

The first event of the year will be the annual Candlelit Procession to the Cathedral (see opposite)
