Please note that all seminars take place on Wednesdays at 4.00 p.m. in the Department of Theology and Religion, Abbey House, D/TH107. Lectures are individually timetabled.

Michaelmas Term

16 October: Revd Dr Philip Lockley, Diocese of Oxford, ‘Is the church a field or a body? Metrics and the imagery of growth in the modern Church of England’.

Epiphany Term

29 January: Dr Paulo Ueti, Anglican Alliance and Anglican Diocese of Brasilia, ACO seminar. ‘Revisiting Biblical Hermeneutics: Choices and Politics’.

5 February: Dr Eve Parker (Durham University), ‘Bleeding Women in Sacred Spaces: Negotiating Our Theological Belonging in the “Pathway’ to Priesthood”’.

26 February: Professor Ann Loades (Durham University), ‘Evelyn Underhill Revisited’.

4 March: Van Mildert Lecture. Professor Hilary Carey (University of Bristol), ‘From Greenland's Icy Mountains’: Protestant Missions and the Northern Frontier in the Age of Empire’. 5.30 p.m., Van Mildert College.

11 March. Henson Lecture. Professor Alison Milbank (University of Nottingham), ‘Can the Church Contribute to a Post-Brexit Britain? Revisiting the Malvern Conference of 1941’. 6.15 p.m., Prior’s Hall, Durham Cathedral.

Saturday 4 April. Scott Holland Symposium. ‘Anglican Churches in Post-War Reconstruction, Nation-Building, and Peace and Reconciliation since 1945’, 9.30-5.00 p.m., Prior’s Hall, Durham Cathedral (please see below for further details).
ANGLICAN CHURCHES IN POST-WAR RECONSTRUCTION, NATION-BUILDING, AND PEACE AND RECONCILIATION SINCE 1945

9.30-5.00, SATURDAY 4 APRIL 2020, PRIOR’S HALL, DURHAM CATHEDRAL

Confirmed speakers

Revd Dr Peter Howson (Oxford Brookes University), ‘British Anglicans and German Evangelicals: the search for reconciliation in the years after World War Two’

Dr Matthew Grimley (Merton College, Oxford), ‘Anglicans and the New Jerusalem: The Church of England and social reconstruction in Britain after 1945’

Revd Dr Sarah Hills (Vicar of Holy Island, Lindisfarne), ‘Reconciliation Reimagined: a theology of restitution as embodied reconciliation in a community in post-apartheid South Africa’

Revd Dr Yazid Said (Liverpool Hope University), ‘The Coherence of Middle Eastern Societies Today: Anglican and Islamic political thought’

Cost (including refreshments and sandwich lunch) £20.00 per person.

Please send cheques payable to The Scott Holland Trust to Canon Professor Michael Snape, Department of Theology and Religion, Durham University, Abbey House, Palace Green, Durham DH1 3RS by Friday 19 March 2020. Nearby bed and breakfast accommodation may be booked by attendees at St. Chad's College (https://www.stchads.ac.uk/, Tel: 0191 334 3358) or at St. John's College (https://www.dur.ac.uk/st-johns.college/, Tel: 0191 334 3500)

The Scott Holland Trust was set up to perpetuate the memory of Henry Scott Holland by way of founding a Holland Lecture on ‘the theology of the Incarnation and its bearing on the social and economic life of man.’ It has been delivered by many of the most important theological and political thinkers of the twentieth century including former Archbishops of Canterbury William Temple, Michael Ramsey and Rowan Williams, as well as professors including R.H. Tawney, A.D. Lindsay and D.M. Mackinnon. More recently lecturers have included director of the British Museum Neil MacGregor, the Rt Hon. Frank Field, and Professor Grace Davie.
Easter Term

29 April: Professor Paul Avis (Durham University), 'William Temple (1881-1944) after 75 Years'.

17 June: Michael Ramsey Lecture. Canon Professor Mark D. Chapman, University of Oxford, 'The Lambeth Conference of 1920 and the Reinvention of Anglicanism'. 6.30 p.m., Prior's Hall, Durham Cathedral.